SAYS WIFE HIT PASTOR WITH FRIED MACKEREL

Servant Girl, at Divorce Trial, Declares Glasses Fell Into Gravy.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—There were many storm scenes in the life of Rev. John and Dorothy Triplett, of Woodbury, N. J.

One of the liveliest took place in the Triplett home when Mrs. Triplett, it is said, struck her husband in the face with a fried mackerel, thereby causing his glasses to plunge into a bowl of gravy.

This is a sample of the testimony which was introduced at the sifting of the suit for divorce which the clergyman brought against his wife. The Court of Chancery was crowded and Advisory Master C. V. D. Joline was patient.

The mackerel episode was mentioned by Carrie Schaaf, a former servant. She said Mrs. Triplett threw the fish at her husband when he demanded some for his mother and sister, who were visiting them. Later, according to the witness, Mrs. Triplett stood before the door of the room occupied by the visitors and called them "spongers."

Carrie Schaaf said Mrs. Triplett was often in bad humor.

"She called him a fool," said the witness, "and encouraged her daughter Doris to make fun of Mr. Triplett when he said grace. She also objected to his being alone in his study. One time she threatened to break the door down with an ax."

Several bids for the newspapers and magazines collected by the local school children which exceed the prices they have been receiving have reached Franklin School. Stephen E. Kramer, assistant superintendent of schools, who has been directing the collection of the sale of the materials, said last night that the matter of selling to another dealer would be discussed at the next meeting of the Board of Education.

Already after five days of collection $317.38 has been realized for extension of school activities. Collections were made yesterday in twenty-two schools and large quantities of paper were gathered. As the results will not be known until the receipts given to the school principals by the collectors are received at the Franklin School this morning for compilation, it will not be known whether any records were broken by yesterday's collections.

Collections were made yesterday at the following schools: Webster, Franklin, Thompson, Abbot, Seaton, Gales, Blake, Arthur, Peabody, Hilton, Carbery, Edmonds, Lovejoy, Cranch, Tyler, Ketchum, Van Buren and Blirney schools.

"I'LL PRAISE DECO THE LONGEST DAY I LIVE," SAYS LADY

Relieved of Constipation, Headaches, Nervousness, Gastritis, Adds Her Words of Praise for Deco.

"Since taking Deco I simply feel fine," said Miss J. Ranke, of 203 Wilkins avenue, Baltimore.

"I suffered with stomach trouble in its worst form for years," continued Miss Ranke. "I was unable to eat any solid food at all on account of the weakened condition of my stomach. Even the lightest things disagreed with me, and after eating I would feel like a big lump had lodged in my chest and nothing I could do would remove it. I would have awful attacks of acute indigestion and it seemed like I could not live through one of these spells. Gas would gather about my heart and I would have smothering spells and could hardly breathe. Then my nerves would give way, my muscles would draw up and I would have a general collapse. I was so nervous I couldn't bear the least unusual noise and I couldn't get any rest or sound sleep at all. I was so weak from loss of flesh and strength the least exertion would almost completely exhaust me and when I wasn't down in bed I would work to properly see after my household duties. I had tried in vain and used so many different medicines without getting any real benefit. I had about despaired of getting anything that would help me."

"It certainly was a lucky day for me when I bought Deco. I began feeling better right from the start, and since taking three bottles of the medicine I haven't a symptom of my troubles. I can eat most anything I want now and all I eat agrees with me. Those awful attacks of acute indigestion have stopped and I have no more smothering spells or shortness of breath. I'm not nervous now and I can stand any kind of noise and my sleep and rest at night is fine. Yes, sir, I have gained in weight and what I have gained in health and strength can't be measured. I'm never troubled with constipation now. This is truly a wonderful medicine. I hope Deco is sold by all the O'Donnell Drug Stores, by Allen's Drug Store in Alexandria; Bury's Drug Store in Anacostia.—Adv.

MILLER BROTHERS' AUTO FORCE GIVEN BANQUET

Claude E. Miller, of the Miller Brothers' Garage, gave the first of a series of banquets and a short lecture on scientific salesmanship for his salesforce last night at the Commercial Club. The dinner was followed by informal talks and the exchange of ideas among the men.

The majority of people are salesmen," said Mr. Miller, "and the better they understand the science of salesmanship, which is the science of service, the more they will get out of life."

Those present were: Mr. Cunningham, H. V. Alexander, E. H. Handy, J. A. Babcock, C. B. Cook, E. C. White, J. Manahan, J. Taylor, D. Richmond, J. W. Evans, Clarence Barnard, G. S. Herfurth, Charles Osborn, Howard Fleck, Roger Williams, and John M. Cherry.

WOMAN "RIDES GOAT."

Mock Masonic Initiation Staged at "Ladies' Night."

A mock Masonic initiation of a woman was the feature of the ladies' night and Halloween entertainment of New Jerusalem Lodge, No. 9, F. A. A. M., in the banquet hall of Masonic Temple last night. The initiation was conducted by Isadora Goldsmith and Charles Stevens. The mixed quartet of St. Andrew's Church sang. Comic songs were rendered by Arthur Pierce.

Roger J. Whitford, junior warden of the lodge, was in charge.

BREAD PURCHASES DROP AS PRICE RISES CENT

Sales Fall Off Fully 50 Per Cent, Due to Increase in Cost.

Bread purchases under the new 6-cent rate fell off yesterday approximately 50 per cent. Whether this was due to parsimony of bakers who have not yet raised their prices or to housewives making their own bread is uncertain.

The foregoing information was gathered through inquiries among several of the grocery stores of this city. C. G. Dade, who is proprietor of a store at 403 E. Capitol street, said his sales on bread yesterday dropped off exactly 60 per cent.

"I handle bread," said Dade, "and I suppose my trade went to some one else who was selling at the old rate of five cents."

Bread dealers say that as long as the bakers maintained the 5-cent rate, there were no complaints, even though in many cases the size of the loaf was curtailed to more than offset the difference, but as soon as an actual rise in the price occurred, every one complained.

The same thing happened several years ago, the dealers say, when the bakers in the city agreed to raise the price to 6 cents, but to keep the weight of a loaf to sixteen ounces. It was found, however, that the public would rather pay

5 cents for an eleven-ounce loaf than 6 cents for a sixteen-ounce one.

Local bakers believe that instead of a remedy for the increased price which now exists, the price of raw materials will force an even higher rate per loaf.

CLAN GREGOR MEMBERS IN WAR'S DEATH TOLL

"War has played havoc with the ranks of the Clan Gregor in Scotland," declared Dr. Edward May Magruder, chief-tain of the American clan, addressing last night's session of the American Clan Gregor Society. "One hundred and twenty-two of our clan have died for England, 28 have been wounded, 27 are missing and 10 are prisoners of war."

Caleb Clark Magruder discussed the ancestry, life and descendants of Nathaniel Magruder, of Dublin. A sword dance was given by Janelro V. Brooks, a recitation by Sarah Bowcock Thrift and songs by Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bowle.

The American Clan Gregor Society was organized in 1899 and is composed of lineal descendants of the Clan Gregor, with an auxiliary membership of wives or husbands of lineal descendants.

Child Hit by Street Car.

HOLD-UP MEN SCORN VICTIM'S 40 CENTS

While walking home on Twelfth street southwest last night about 9 o'clock, Frank T. Hayes, a butcher, of 1224 Fourteenth street northwest, was held up at the point of a revolver by two white men. The men searched his pockets, and when it was found he had nothing of value on his person, they allowed him to proceed.

Hayes declares he was about half way between B and C streets when the two men came up. One of them pointed a revolver at him and told him to hold up his hands. After they had gone through his clothes and found only 40 cents in his pockets they decided they did not want to take that and told him to step along about his business.
